Holy Trinity's Parishioner in the Spotlight

Some people want it to happen, some wish it to happen, she makes it happen .

She is part of a special group that provides friendship and promotes spiritual and social activities among the women of the parish.

She also heads up a vital ministry of prayer warriors.

Meet Your Parish

Darlene Paul

We asked Darlene to talk about the Ladies Guild at Holy Trinity.

Our main focus now is the friendship luncheons which allow people to gather in fellowship after funerals. We recently hosted the deanerey luncheon at Holy Trinity for the visiting Diocesan priests. It is a blessed work that our Guild does, but it takes lots of food and lots of workers.

Our Guild, itself, has about 25 members, but we can always rely on food donations and volunteerism from perhaps 75 parishioners. Their wonderful response to our calls for salads, deserts and all is indispensable to fulfilling our mission of cheer and support. The fact that our membership can draw on the parish at large is marvelous. In the last couple of years, the Guild has donated a new refrigerator for the kitchen and 16 round tables for the social hall.

H.T. Web: How did you get started in the Ladies Guild?

Dave and I came to Holy Trinity in '73. I joined the Guild 38 years ago to do something to help the Parish. I was Guild secretary and later treasurer. I treasure the friendships and the love in our Guild. We do a good work, and we enjoy camaraderie with one another.

Darlene worked at Tracyton Elementary in special services while raising 2 boys. She has also served as a teacher in the Holy Trinity Faith Formation program. Darlene's other activities include the parish prayer chain, serving as a Eucharistic Minister, the Angel Tree gift drive, and involvement with St. Vincent DePaul. Join Darlene and the Ladies Guild. Many hands make light work.
